Excerpt from Report of the Chief of the United States Auxiliary Naval Force to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy on Its Operations During the War With Spain: I have the honor to submit the following report concerning the United States Auxiliary Naval Force, which was organized for service in the war with Spain under the terms of a joint resolution of Congress, passed to meet the emergency, in the month of May last. As a consideration of this joint resolution is necessary to a complete understanding of the organization and limitations of the Auxiliary Naval Force, I set it forth in full, as follows: Joint Resolution providing for the organization and enrollment of the United States Auxiliary Naval Force. Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That a United States Auxiliary Naval Force is hereby authorized to be established, to be enrolled in such numbers as the President may deem necessary, not exceeding three thousand enlisted men, for the exigencies of the present war with Spain, and to serve for a period of one year, or less, and shall be disbanded by the President at the conclusion of the war. Sec. 2. That the chief of the United States Auxiliary Naval Force shall be detailed by the Secretary of the Navy from the active or retired list of the line officers of the Navy not below the grade of captain, who shall receive the highest pay of his grade while so employed. Sec. 3. That enlistment into the United States Auxiliary Naval Force shall be made by such officer or officers as the Navy Department may detail for the purpose, who shall also select from merchant vessels and other available sources such volunteers as may be deemed best fitted for service as officers in said Force, and shall report to the Secretary of the Navy, for his action, their names and the grade for which each is recommended. Sec. 4. That for the purposes of this organization the coast line shall be divided into districts, each of which shall be in charge of an assistant to the chief of the United States Auxiliary Naval Force; and such assistant chiefs may be detailed by the Secretary of the Navy from the officers of the active or retired list of the line of the Navy, or appointed by him from civil life, not above the rank of lieutenant-commander. Sec. 5. That the officers and men comprising the United States Auxiliary Naval Force shall receive the same pay and emoluments as those holding similar rank or rate in the Regular Navy; and all matters relating to the organization, discipline, and government of men in said Force shall conform to the laws and regulations governing the United States Navy. Sec. 6. That the chief of the United States Auxiliary Naval Force, or such officers as the Navy Department may detail for such service, may, with the consent of the governor of any State, muster into the said Force the whole or any part of the organizations of the Naval Militia of any State to serve in said Auxiliary Naval Force, and shall report to the Secretary of the Navy, for his action, the names and grades for which commissions in said United States Auxiliary Naval Force shall be issued to the officers of such Naval Militia, and shall have the power to appoint and disrate the petty officers thereof.
