

Back to School

Is life a school? This is what the girl Cissa asks her mother after learning from her that she should take advantage of the opportunities that arise in her life and study hard, because life is one big school. Cissas questions lead her mother to make interesting comparisons between school life and the life of the spirit, and this arouses the girls interest in issues explained by the Spiritist Doctrine. In a creative and original way, the child reader will be led to understand the need to take care of ones body, the importance of charity work, and Gods goodness in granting us new opportunities to progress by means of reincarnation.
