

Trend Watch List Extended - STeM Alert- The American Parent

STEM ALERT: THE AMERICAN PARENT - ARTICLE SUMMARY

Few people have spent more time deluding themselves about their children's future than the American Parent. For decades, a they mentality and a culture of low standards in math and science performance has brought about significant declines in our overall technical capacity as a nation. The average American Parent prefers to ignore what is happening, pushing responsibility off of themselves and off of their children whenever possible. The attitude of the American Parent (and teachers, and daycare providers alike) is at the center of problem and the solution to the declining technical capability of the United States.
