

Tallboy Walkin: A Play

Five different men, of different ages and ethnic backgrounds, find themselves stranded at a bus stop late at night in a dangerous urban city. A confrontation between two men of color holds the other three as their unwilling captive audience, trapped by circumstances, a late bus and the presence of a loaded firearm. A high-wire meditation on race, religion and the comedy of life, Tallboy Walkin asks the question all of us at some point have to answer in our lives.
