

Managing the New Organisation (New Speciality Titles)

The post-corporate organisation of the new millennium reaches far beyond hierarchy - producing collaborative and boundaryless systems. Managing the New Organisation 2nd Edition: *examines the complex and critical issues raised by the advent of the new organisation*evaluates the damage wrought by corporate bureaucracies within the clarified context of social sustainability and global interdependence *focuses explicitly on the skills required to develop sustainable organisations, collaborative management, networking, shared leadership and metastrategic and microstrategic management expertise. The engagement of all stakeholders in managing the new organisation and the emphasis on sustainability and ecological balance will be part of business in the near future. The authors capture these trends superbly and articulate them in thoughtful ways. Sandra Cormack, Executive Education Manager, Macquarie Graduate School of Management.
