

At the Right Place

In an age when so many of us try to have as much fun as us humanly possible, Straube Centers innovator, Win Straube together with his good wife, Hildegard, remind us of the redeeming pride of place in the global community. This is a must read for all global residents who dream of achievement and its accompanying prosperity. The Straubes philosophy, astounding yet simple, is revealed in little maxims that accompany their correspondence, like: The impossible we do immediately, miracles take a little longer! Read this very relevant account of how Win succeeded against innumerable odds - and know that he is a super-encourager of anyone who would go out on a limb to follow a dream. In fact, he delights in peoples success, almost as much as he relishes his ongoing dreams - some of which are being born as we read this astounding book about the birth of Straube Center and its continuing evolvement.
