

Exit Interview

When David Westin became president of ABC News in March 1997, the division was treading water. It looked like all the really important news was behind us, he writes. Hardly. For the next thirteen years, Westin would preside over ABC News during some of the most important and perplexing events in its history: President Clintons impeachment The tied 2000 presidential election The 9/11 attacks Conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan The swift boat smear campaign against Senator John Kerry Exit Interview is a behind-the-scenes look at Westins tenure and the major news that marked it. He takes us inside the chaos of the newsroom alongside major players such as Peter Jennings, Barbara Walters, Diane Sawyer, and Bob Woodruff where what looks clear and certain from the outside is often mired in conflict and urgency. Neither an apologia nor a critique, the book charts the ups and downs of fourteen formative years in network news, addressing basic questions about how our news is reported, from the point of view of someone who was there. With milestones from the recent past, Westin explores the uncertainty inherent in his job, and its central question: Is it possible for journalists to be both good at their jobs and people of good moral character?
